Property Description

Perched above the scenic coastline of Playa Ocotal, Casa Perdida presents a rare opportunity to own an architecturally significant ocean-view residence in one of Guanacaste's most sought-after beach destinations. Originally designed by acclaimed Costa Rican architect Víctor Cañas, known for his tropical modernist style, the home seamlessly embraces the surrounding natural beauty and panoramic Pacific views. This 4-bedroom, 2.5-bathroom residence offers approximately 3,150 square feet of living space, thoughtfully positioned to maximize ocean breezes, natural light, and stunning coastal vistas. Expansive terraces, tropical gardens, and a private swimming pool create the perfect setting for relaxed indoor-outdoor living in Costa Rica. Ready for renovation, Casa Perdida offers exceptional potential for buyers seeking a distinctive restoration project with strong investment upside. Its iconic design, spacious layout, and elevated location provide the ideal foundation to transform the property into a spectacular luxury retreat or income-producing vacation home.
