Property Description

Jardín del Mar is designed to combine the beauty and openness of the Costa Rican outdoors with the luxury amenities of an open concept home. This is a dream vacation home: a family-friendly, modern aesthetic built with locally sourced natural wood and stone, a large yard with plenty of grass and a lush garden with fruit trees to create a sense of natural seclusion, and an idyllic pool with a waterfall and a dedicated shallow area perfect for young children or bathing beauties looking to sip margaritas in just enough water to keep cool on a hot day. The main living area is designed with sleek sliding glass panels that can easily disappear to give guests the option of openness to the pool and garden area or be closed to protect from the elements on those particularly hot and muggy days when you just want to relax in the comfort of an air-conditioned room. Every bedroom is air-conditioned.
