Property Description

Welcome to your private retreat, located at the entrance to the Corcovado National Park one of the highest biodiversity natural reserves in the world. This recently built 3 bedroom - 3 bathroom home experiences wonderful breezes all day long. This off-grid home is powered by a solar system and has it's own spring fed water supply. This farm is located along an easy access municipal road with no need for a 4x4. The house sits at the back of the property overlooking the 97-acre Finca. Below the house, there is a large, flat area with a year-round creek running through the center of this area. Surrounding this area is jungle covered rolling hills a wildlife corridor. There are several water springs on the property and seller has applied for a legal water concession. There are many places to build houses or create a resort in this beautiful unspoiled section of Costa Rica. A close drive to the Golfo Dulce with its fantastic beaches, and sport fishing.
